ZWEIBRÜCKEN, July 7, 2016 – It was practically a routine event for Bruns Schwerlast GmbH and Terex Cranes: On May 31, 2016, General Manager Frank Bruns picked up what is now his company's 36th Terex crane in Zweibrücken. This time, it was an Explorer 5800 all terrain crane, which Terex Cranes Sales Manager Michael Zieger handed over to the general manager in person.

The new Terex crane will help expand the capabilities of the crane service provider's fleet at its Magdeburg branch. "We decided on this model especially because of its ease of use and its low-noise, fuel-efficient Scania engine," explains Frank Bruns, who has kept a very close relationship with the Zweibrücken location for years.

About Bruns Schwerlast GmbH

With locations in Sülzetal, near Magdeburg, and Giesen, near Hanover, as well as a state-of-the-art fleet featuring mobile cranes with lifting capacities of up to 400 tonnes, Bruns Schwerlast is engaged in providing crane and heavy load transportation services across all of Germany. The company has relied consistently on Terex/Demag cranes since the 1960s. And its combination of crane services and heavy goods vehicles with load capacities of up to 70 tonnes enables it to provide its customers with one-stop turnkey project handling services (including planning).
